

COVID-19 April Break Camps Update: Redhouse Cancels April Break Camps

March 20, 2020

Nothing is more important to Redhouse than the health and safety of our community. Due to restrictions on public gatherings in New York State, the Red House Arts Center has decided to cancel April Break Camps.

Since schools will not yet be back in session when our camps are scheduled to run, we feel that it is in the best interest of our students to keep them home and safe with their families until school activities resume. We are currently planning for alternative enrichment opportunities to provide to our community via social media platforms, and will be in touch soon with more information on how your students can interact with us in lieu of visiting us at Redhouse.

If your child has already signed up we will be in touch with you directly regarding refunds or credits to future camps. We regret any inconvenience caused by these changes, as we look to adhere to the measures outlined by our public officials.

Thank you for your understanding and support at this time.

Sincerely,
Samara Hannah, Executive Director
Marguerite Mitchell, Director of Education

Important COVID-19 Updates from Redhouse Arts Center

March 16, 2020

Nothing is more important to us than your health and safety. Due to restrictions on public gatherings in New York State and in keeping with industry decisions, the Redhouse Arts Center has decided to implement the following:

1. The Redhouse facility will be temporarily closed to the general public effective 5pm today, Monday, March 16th.
2. Redhouse's production of Fences will be postponed. Those that have purchased tickets to Fences will be receiving a separate email with additional information regarding the production and your tickets.
3. All Redhouse Staff will be working remotely per the public health guidelines that were issued today by Onondaga County, New York State and the CDC.

We regret any inconvenience caused by these changes, as we look to adhere to the measures outlined by our public officials. Please know we are working diligently to reschedule Redhouse shows and other programming for a later date and we will continue to provide updates as they become available. Thank you in advance for your continued patience and support as we navigate this unprecedented time.

Sincerely,

Samara J. Hannah, Executive Director
